

nee on Sundays to attend morning service; and it ted from this that they fared rather badly at the ay dinner, which was usually half over by the time got back. .Disraeli was himself among the victims, ais new religion had as yet aroused in him none of ;eal of a martyr; so 'he solemnly threw out the jstion to his Anglican companions that it might well if they all became Unitarians for the term of life at school.